

New guidelines for publication in Gold Bulletin

Correction

Conference Report by Dr Sónia A Carabineiro, Volume 41, part 4, p350

In the last issue of Gold Bulletin, vol 41 (4), the Contents page gave the wrong title to Dr Carabineiro's report on page 350. The title should have read, "Gold Highlights at the 21st Meeting of the Portuguese Society of Chemistry in Porto, Portugal, June 11-13, 2008"

We apologise for this error. It has now been corrected on the website, www.goldbulletin.org

C W Corti
Editor

The Editorial Team are currently receiving increased numbers of manuscripts for publication in Gold Bulletin. As a consequence, new Guidelines for Authors have been introduced (see <http://www.goldbulletin.org/content/view/11/30/>).

This places more severe limits on the length of manuscripts that will be accepted. In particular, scientific papers should not be more than four published text pages* plus tables and figures in length (longer ones only at Editor's discretion).

Manuscripts submitted that are longer than the Guidelines will be returned for shortening (unless the author can justify the need for a longer text).

The Editor

* this equates to about 8 typed pages of text on A4 paper
